

Safety first...and always

We believe that each of us at the Newton Group, regardless of the work we do, plays a vital role in achieving a "Hazard Free" work environment.

Look around you, everyone at the Newton Group is on your team, and you on theirs; so if we aren't looking out for each other, we're doing something seriously wrong!

We continue to achieve to make The Newton Group's Health and Safety standards above government requirements in our industry; and our Health and Safety Program has earned us a safety record that consistently we continue to be proud of and enhance.

There might be a number of reasons why you would need to call HR or the in-house Health and Safety Rep to discuss Health and Safety issues. The following lists some of the more common reasons for which we might get involved, but whatever your Health and Safety concerns, give us a call, as we can help with any of the situations below, and many more.
